

Pride in the craft

In the tiny village of Fredriksfors, just several kilometers from the cultural center of Delsbo in the heart of Hälsingland, Sweden, you will find one of the world's leading candle factories – Delsbo Candle. Candles have been manufactured here since the Second World War and this source of local pride has been located in the same place since the very beginning. At Delsbo Candle, we strive to be the best without losing the spirit of Delsbo or the environmental consciousness which courses through our blood. When you enter the factory, the welcoming scent of stearin greets you, evoking memories of Christmas and an atmosphere of quality. The large dipping carousels are constantly running, nearly every day of the week, with a capacity for growth and the creation of job opportunities.

At the machines and packing stations one will find coworkers who consider the factory their own. Our employees have a natural sense of pride in the craft and in the fact that Delsbo Candle was the first producer of ecolabeled stearin candles to be certified with the trust-giving, exclusive Nordic Swan Ecolabel, which we have held since 2008.

To be a world leader has been the spirit since the day our CEO, Olle Skog began supervising the company. He began working at the factory in 1969 and has been faithful to this day. Even during ownership changes over the years. Despite the somewhat odd geographic location, Delsbo Candle has a natural place among the candle makers of the world.

“Coincidence isn't random,” is a dynamic notion that has stuck with Olle and has taken us to where we are today. Olle dared to take a chance and left room for innovative ideas and visions. There has always been great faith in the staff, and many have chosen to stay and develop within the company. This is something we are very proud of and see as one of our strengths.

Delsbo Candle is a forerunner in the business with our sound values. In 2005 the decision was made to exclusively manufacture stearin candles, which has turned out to be wise in every way and now something obvious in these times of sustainable products. We have faced many challenges over the years, naturally, but coincidences have led only to solutions. Olle is a man of vision and because of that, Delsbo Candle is a true star in the sky of candles and will continue to remain so far into the future. We are facing exciting times and we want to continue to be one step ahead and to forge new paths. The entire municipality should continue to be proud of us. We certainly are.

The best quality with the least environmental impact

Delsbo Candle strives to find and maintain the best quality with the least impact on the environment in both ingredients as well as in our craft. Using the best stearin and wicks is the key to a great candle, which can be validated by the long burn time and the beautiful, pure and clear flame emanating from our lit candles.

We have made it possible to deliver colored candles with the best burn qualities. We overdip our candles in pigmented dipping mass, as we want to minimize the quantity of pigments for each candle.

In this manner we can keep the burning performance, be environmentally friendly while continuing to deliver beautifully colored candles as requested by our customers.

What is a Nordic Swan Ecolabeled candle?

A Nordic Swan Ecolabeled candle is meeting specific criteria for environmental performance, health aspects, quality and safety. The candle consists of more than 90 percent renewable raw materials, burns clean and has minimal values for soot emission and content of health- and environmental damaging chemistry.

In the Nordic countries approximately 50,000 tons of candles are used per annum. A Nordic Swan Ecolabeled candle has strict environmental requirements on both the product and the packaging. The most important requirement is that the candles are manufactured using renewable stearin with minimal environmental impact.

A Nordic Swan Ecolabeled candle is a smart choice for the environment.
